

Cardano al Campo, February 24, 2006

Livingston confirmed as leading Italian carrier to the Dominican Republic for IATA summer season 2006

Livingston, the Italian leisure airline, offering both scheduled and charter flights and owned by Ventaglio Group, is the leading carrier for non-stop flights connecting Italy and the Dominican Republic for the IATA summer season 2006.

Livingston announces a timetable featuring four weekly flights to La Romana and two weekly flights to Punta Cana.

Flights depart from Milan Malpensa and Rome Fiumicino as follows:

from Milan Malpensa to La Romana:

Monday: 1 flight

Tuesday: 1 flight

Wednesday: 1 flight

Saturday: 1 flight

from Rome Fiumicino to La Romana:

Wednesday: 1 flight*

* via Milan Malpensa

from Milan Malpensa to Punta Cana:

Saturday: 1 flight

Sunday: 1 flight

Flights are operated by the Airlines's three new Airbus A330-200s.

Fares start from €789 + taxes (y/class) and €1760 + taxes (c/class).-

Bookings: call center 02/33472323 – info@lauda.it – www.lauda.it

"The Dominican Republic was one of the first destinations to be included in Livingston's scheduled route network some 10 years ago" - says Giancarlo Celani, Livingston's CEO and V.P. Marketing & Sales - "A traditional destination that always features in our summer and winter timetables, it is highly satisfactory in terms of load factor and number of passengers. Therefore, when the Tourist Board invited us to play an active role in promoting the Island in Italy we agreed with great pleasure and enthusiasm".

In the course of the summer season, due to end on October 31, 2006, Livingston expects to carry 26.000 passengers with a load factor of around 85%.

For further information contact:

Laura Arrighi

External Relations & Press Office Livingston SpA

Tel. 0331 267471 – www.lauda.it